CHANNEL ISLANDS GULLS DONATE MORE THAN $30,000 TO VENTURA COUNTY CHARITIES Record Amount to Benefit 11 Non-Profits

October 31, 2017, Oxnard, CA – The Channel Islands Gulls of Ventura County recently donated a record $31,000 in charitable gifts to 11 Ventura County non-profit organizations. The recipients this year are: California Coastal Horse Rescue; Camarillo Hospice; Caregivers; El Centrito Family Learning Center; Kids' Art Ventura; Many Meals of Camarillo; National Alliance on Mental Illness; Ribbons of Life Breast Cancer Foundation; St. Vincent De Paul; Ventura County City Center and Ventura County Rescue Mission (Lighthouse for Women and Children). The recipients will receive their checks at the Gulls monthly luncheon on November 16, 2017 at Saticoy Country Club.

"We are so pleased to be able to have raised and given away these funds to such a diverse group of Ventura County non-profits," says Channel Islands Gulls President, Maxine Exler. "We are proud to have raised even more than last year and are also proud of our growing membership, which is close to 200. We look forward to continuing to grow, which will enable us to donate even more next year to these and additional deserving organizations."

Established in 1976, the Channel Islands Gulls is one of Ventura County's starlight non-profit organizations whose objective is to raise money for Ventura County charities while providing social and emotional support to its members. For information on membership: www.channelislandsgulls.com.
